

Company Profile

Our Supervisory staff comes from a long line of multinational freight forwarding firms, where they learned the know-how of air and ocean transportation operations and procedures. They also learned that most large transportation companies are more concerned with profitability than customer service.

At INTERFREIGHT, we are committed to serve and help the customer first, while striving for the growth of both our companies.

We are a medium size Broker and Forwarder. With us, the customer will not be taken for granted after handling the first few shipments. We also feel that the better we know your product, the easier it is to make your next shipment problem free.

Our reliable, honest and cost-effective freight transportation services will give your company the competitive edge in foreign sales and marketing. You will benefit from our worldwide network of select agents and affiliates. In the domestic market, we have developed expertise handling heavy machinery from coast to coast.
